¹ More than 30,000 free ATMs in the Co-op network compared to 15,000 for Chase, 15,000 for Bank of America, and 11,000 for Wells Fargo. 2024 comparison from coop.org.

² Must be a new member with a new checking account and direct deposit.

³ Emergency Loans of $500 to $2,000 have terms up to 24 months and a 17.00% APR. Funds are provided the same or next business day into a Stanford FCU account. There are no fees, but a late payment fee may apply. You must be employed full or part-time at one of our partner companies for at least 6 months (interns, temps and contract employees do not qualify). Only one Emergency Loan at a time. Credit will be pulled for the sole purpose of confirming there is no bankruptcy, and the loan status will be reported to credit bureaus. Payment Example: A $2,000 24-month Emergency Loan at 17.00% APR would result in monthly payments of $98.88.
