

Descriptive Language

Level:

Low-Intermediate—Intermediate

Objectives:

The student will be able to describe people (relationships) and things

Timing

10-15 minutes (longer if you turn it into a writing activity)

Prep/

Materials:

Prepare three photos from a magazine

Breakdown:

- Choose three photos from a magazine and bring them to class. One should be of people who are in some sort of relationship. The other two photos should be of objects.
- Show the first photo to the student and ask them to discuss the relationship of the people in the picture. (How did they meet, what is the nature of their relationship, what do they do for fun?)
- Show them the second photo and tell them that the object is something that is important to the people. Ask them to discuss possible reasons why.
- Show them the third photo and tell them that this object is something that the people in the first photo really don't like. Ask them again to come up with ideas why.
- You can turn it into a writing activity and ask the student to write a story based on these three photos.
